- Retail Sales - Estimated at $1,302,401,666 for 2010 – 11% above the national average.
- Affordable Housing & Taxes - The cost of housing is well below the national average, and property taxes are low in comparison to major Canadian cities, plus the lowest of all New Brunswick cities.
- Value of Construction – Consistently high at $122 million in 2009.

A Smart & Sustainable City ...

- Canada's 1st Free Wireless City – With Fred-eZone, the municipally-owned wi-fi network, part of the City's fibre optic network, e-Novations. Fred-eZone was the winner of a Canadian Information Productivity Award in 2004.
- Smart City – Recognized twice as one of the world's top 7 intelligent communities (Intelligent Community Forum). As the Knowledge-based Capital of New Brunswick, it's no surprise that Fredericton is home to over 70% of the province's knowledge industry, as well as Canada's largest per capita engineering cluster. The City offers an innovative and synergistic environment for industry with its state-of-the-art facilities like Knowledge Park.
- A Rich and Diverse Research Cluster - With impressive expertise in the fields of technology, forestry, and agriculture, local businesses have access to more than 60 research organizations including the National Research Council (NRC) Institute for Information Technology (IIT)'s E-Business Research Centre. Recognized globally for research and innovation, NRC is a leader in the development of an innovative, knowledge-based economy for Canada through science and technology.
- A Centre for Higher Education – Fredericton is home to six universities plus a variety of training colleges and institutes. Fredericton also has the 4th highest university-educated population in the entire country at 31%.
- Sustainable – Behind the face of Fredericton's lush, green spaces and tree-adorned streets, there is a green revolution going on! The City has a growing environmental technology cluster, and is earning international attention for initiatives like Green Shops, a business-oriented greenhouse gas reduction program, geared towards reducing the City's ecological footprint. Sustainability is by design in Fredericton!

Quality of Life ...

- A Short Commute - The City Centre is minutes away, whether you reside in the downtown core within a five-minute walk to work, or in the country within a ten-minute drive -- traffic jams are non-existent!
- Centrally Located - Within an hour's drive to the U.S. Interstate 95 - the major American north-south corridor; within a day's drive of Halifax, Toronto and New York; less than an hour away from Saint John - the region's busiest seaport; and just a fifteen-minute drive from the Fredericton Airport.

Services

Health Care

Fredericton has quality health care facilities and services, operated by Horizon Health Network, the largest health authority in Atlantic Canada. Horizon Health Network delivers quality patient focused health care in both official languages (English and French) to residents in New Brunswick and neighbouring provinces.

A large team of health professionals, offer a variety of health care, wellness and disease prevention programs. Fredericton is home to the Dr. Everett Chalmers Regional Hospital, a modern acute care public hospital with a staff in excess of 2,500. The hospital provides a 24-hour physician-staffed emergency department. Other available services include: internal medicine, psychiatry, anesthesia, general and thoracic surgery, obstetrics and gynecology, neonatology, pediatrics, urology, oncology, ophthalmology, orthopedics, otolaryngology, plastic and reconstructive surgery, and speech, physical and respiratory therapies. There is comprehensive medical coverage in Canada under the Medicare program.

New Brunswick is served by the Extra-Mural program, an innovative "hospital without walls", which is a national and international model for effective home care. The service, available in every region of the province, brings a whole range of hospital services right into patients' homes -- everything from respiratory therapy to post-natal services to palliative care.

Public Health nurses and nutritionists promote, maintain and protect the health of the people in Fredericton and surrounding area through health promotion, disease and injury prevention and health protection. Community Mental Health provides assessment, treatment and counseling either in-office or through outreach services in the community. They also offer group therapy and psycho-educational groups.

Fredericton is also home to the Stan Cassidy Centre for Rehabilitation, the provincial tertiary rehabilitation centre, which offers comprehensive medical rehabilitation programs for people with stroke or head injury, neuromuscular disorders, spinal cord injury, chronic pain, progressive disabilities and severe disabilities.

Other facilities in the region include: Regional Addiction Services, the Veterans Health Unit, the Gibson Health Clinic, and the Centre de Santé Noreen-Richard Health. The Gibson Health Clinic offers primary health care and wellness programs to anyone without a family physician, and has a team of six physicians, a nurse practitioner and two nurses. The Centre de Santé Noreen-Richard Health offers primary healthcare and health services in French on an outpatient basis, and operates out of the Centre communautaire Sainte-Anne.

POLICE

Fredericton is proud of its highly trained, professional and progressive group of men and women who put a compassionate face on police work. The Fredericton Police Force has provided quality service to its citizens for over 150 years. The Force's Mission Statement is:

"The Fredericton Police Force is committed to delivering high quality of police services and working with the community in order to provide a safe and peaceful environment in which to live, work, and play."

In 2006, the Neighbourhood Action Team was introduced to provide a distinct enhancement to the existing police service delivery model in Fredericton. The Neighbourhood Action Team is essentially the pooling of a large group of officers from previously fragmented work groups, who now focus their efforts in a strategic and coordinated manner to address a variety of neighbourhood issues. The Team is comprised of civilian employees, volunteers, uniform officers, community crime plain-clothes officers, school resource officers, crime prevention officers and St. Mary's First Nations officers. The Team reports to the Team Leader Staff Sergeant, who in turn is accountable to the NAT Advisory Group, which is comprised of senior police management. There are two main offices located on the north and south side of the Saint John River.

The Force aims to fulfill its Vision Statement:

"The Fredericton Police Force will be the recognized leader in providing quality police services to meet the public safety needs of the community."

The Fredericton Police Force provides a variety of specialized services to the City of Fredericton and outside Police Agencies. The men and women of the Force strive to keep the City of Fredericton a peaceful place to live, work and grow.

9-1-1 EMERGENCY SERVICE

The Province of New Brunswick operates a highly integrated, enhanced 911 system. The system utilizes six Public Safety Answering Points (PSAP's) located in Fredericton, Bathurst, Dieppe, Edmundston, Miramichi and Saint John. The service provides a common entry point to all residents and the travelling public, who require emergency assistance from police, fire and ambulance responders in the province. For landline phones, the system will provide: location and telephone number information for the call taker; and cellular tower location and cellular telephone number for cellular calls. Upon verification of all relevant information and emergency description, the call taker will then relay the pertinent information to the appropriate emergency service provider for immediate response. Source: 911 Centre

FIRE

The Fredericton Fire Department operates four fire stations with 113 personnel, including a new fire training centre and a five-member Fire Prevention Division that provides a number of community-based programs such as: fire inspection, fire investigation, and public education. Services provided by the Department include: fire suppression, rescue (including ice-water rescue), first responder, and hazardous materials response (through a joint team with the Oromocto Fire Department). The Department operates a well-maintained fleet of fire apparatus and utilizes the latest technological advances to provide these services (i.e. Class "A" foam, thermal imaging camera, and automated incident reporting). WASTE DISPOSAL

The Province of New Brunswick has implemented a regional approach to solid waste management and has eliminated over 235 local dumping areas throughout the province. On the outskirts of Fredericton, the Fredericton Region Solid Waste Commission (FRSWC) operates a 165 hectare sanitary landfill handling 75,000 metric tonnes of waste a year, with an anticipated future life of 40-50 years. The Fredericton Region Sanitary Landfill is in the vanguard of scientific waste management, with a garbage baler, comprehensive recycling programs, scrap metal reclamation, freon management program and many other innovations. It also operates an active education program for the schools and the general public. Also, New Brunswick has beverage container, used oil and scrap tire recycling programs.

The FRSWC launched New Brunswick's first Landfill Gas Management System, designed to eliminate landfill odours and eliminate greenhouse gases from the atmosphere. The gas management system removes approximately 150 metric tonnes of CO₂ from the atmosphere every day.

Utilities

WATER

The City of Fredericton prides itself on the quality and quantity of its water supply. We have invested heavily in state of the art equipment and processes to ensure that our businesses and citizens have a first class supply of safe, affordable water. Fredericton is acknowledged as a leader in this field and our staff are often called upon to consult with other municipalities and the provincial government concerning water issues.

In addition to the physical infrastructure, the City has invested heavily in the training and skill development of its water staff. For years, the Maritime Provinces Water and Wastewater Association, in conjunction with the Atlantic Canada Water and Wastewater Association, has provided this training. For many years, the entire staff of the water and sewer division has completed extensive in-house training and has written operator certification exams of various disciplines and degrees. In fact, all Water Distribution staff are certified by the Association of Boards of Certification for Operating Personnel. Fredericton is firmly committed to maintaining its leadership in the water area.

The majority of properties in the City are billed at a quarterly rate, including meter rental.

Quarterly Rate:

- Water service charge - $26.60
- Sewer service charge - $26.60
- Cost per kilolitre (cubic metre) for water - 0.66
- Cost per Kilolitre (cubic metre) for sewer - 0.66

Meter Rental:

13, 16, 20 mm - $2.00

NATURAL GAS – ENBRIDGE GAS NEW BRUNSWICK & MARITIMES & NORTHEAST PIPELINE

Maritimes & Northeast Pipeline completed the transmission pipeline system running through New Brunswick into the northeastern United States in 1999. Since then, Enbridge Gas New Brunswick, the provincial natural gas distributor, has installed over 750 km of natural gas pipelines (approx. 220 km in Fredericton and Oromocto alone). With this investment, more than 130 direct jobs have been created and another 400 additional jobs have developed within the natural gas industry. Enbridge Gas New Brunswick now proudly serves over 10,000 commercial, residential, industrial and institutional customers in nine municipalities in southern New Brunswick. NOTES:

*City receives the revenue. The 1.5 represents the business tax rate. The property tax rates apply to all properties (land and buildings) within City limits, per $100 of assessment. Non-owner occupied residential properties are taxed at the residential rate of $2.9028 plus 0.05 cents Residential Tenancy Administration Fee, for a total of $2.9528. The combined tax base assessment 2010 over 2009 was increased by 5.43%. The base used for 2010 to set the tax rate was $5,537,706,643, including Federal properties.

Non-residential tax rate:

*The Province of New Brunswick levies a property tax on non-residential property within municipal boundaries. As you can see, a development in the downtown core pays a total rate of $4.5445. Of that total, the City collects $2.1392, or 47% of the total tax charged. The Province of New Brunswick collects the majority of tax in the form of the Provincial Tax Rate, i.e. $$2.1859 + 0.00194 = \2.2053 per $100 of assessment. The BIA levy of 0.20 is a tax imposed upon the downtown businesses by themselves.
